YANNIGAN WEEK was when all the new Varsity men went through five days of torture, and fun to become Lettermen. They wore diapers, presented an assembly and had a final picnic at Carson River where some coaches got wet.

Yannigans and Freshmen Get Prettied-Up

Yannigans obeyed all Lettermen with the humility of the Great Teacher of All Time.

FRESHMEN were made up by seniors and raffled off to anybody who would buy them to work as slaves. They went to the football field for a fashion and talent show. A little game of free-for-all highlighted the end of the day.

By Lettermen and Mighty Seniors

Freshmen got a kick out of looking at each other's painted faces!

FLAG CARRIERS - Rose Makewa, Marcella Sekayouma, Rita Andrews and Marlene Narcia.

Frisky Cheerleaders Add Color and Pep

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS-Debbie Ochoa, Delphine Eleando, Glenda Alchesay, (Kneeling) Sandra Wilson and Lydia Brooks.

The cheerleaders, poms and flag carriers perform at Stewart's athletic events as well as provide spirit and support for the games at half-time.

They also do some service projects for the athletic interests at Stewart.

Lorri Lippy is the sponsor for the Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleaders.

POMS-Tammie Henry, Cindy Sambrano, Christine Oppenheim, Jonella Santos, Linda Smith and Margaret Manuel.

to the Spirit of Seventy-Six

JUNIOR VARSITY CHEERLEADERS-Pam Lewis, Malinda Manuel, Jerri Patrick, Debbie Smith, Leatrice Walema and Winnona Garrison.

Kay Atcheson is the sponsor for the Poms. These girls learn dance routines and they add a lot of color to the basketball court when they do some of their dances at half-time.

Another group of girls, the freshman cheerleaders, also perform during the freshman games. Mrs. Lippy sponsors this group also.

Marcella Sekayouma, "Miss Stewart Indian Festival 1975" gets a last going over by her mother.

Indian Is Always

The spring Indian Festival at Stewart is a time when those who own tribal costumes, wear them. Arts and crafts are made and sold, and Indian dancing is held. Miss Stewart Indian Festival is named.

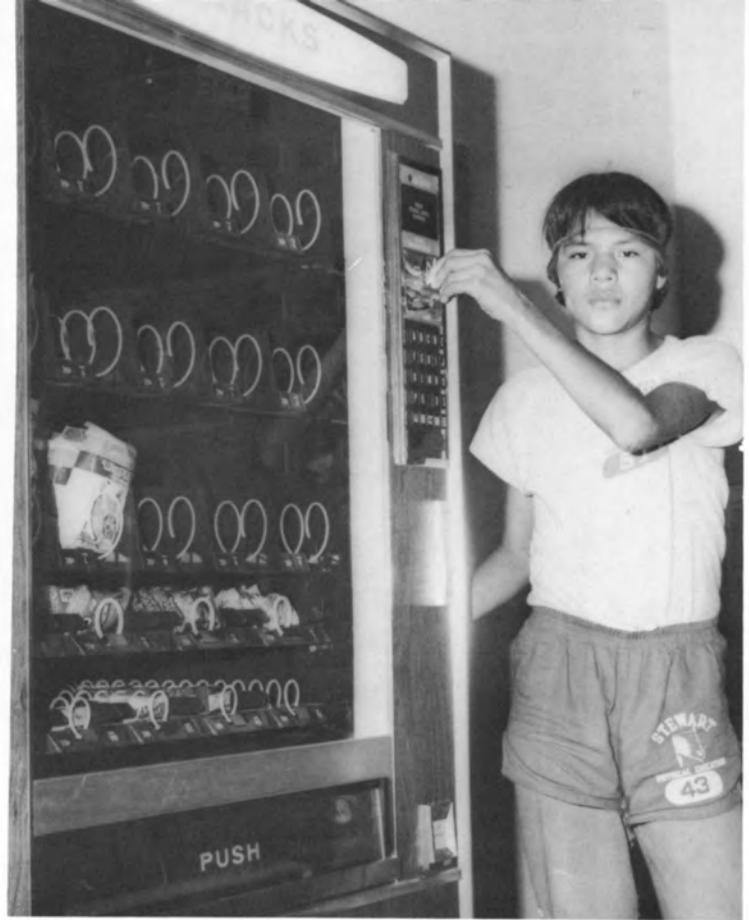

William Lalo and Rita Andrews were named Mr. and Miss Stewart for the Nevada Day Parade on Oct. 31, 1975. Both are Hopis.

Heritage Emphasized

On American Indian Day, visitors come to Stewart, wearing their tribal costumes and an all-school assembly is held with Indian dancing in the new gymnasium. Loren Sammaripa sponsors this program.

In the Dormitories, Students Work

Clifford Morgan

Alvin Lewis

Eddie Mendoza

Lucy Ami gets with the books as Doreen Felix picks up a stitch somebody dropped.

and Play; Sometimes they even Study!

Because the yearbook goes to press in February, it is always necessary to use photographs of the previous year's baseball team. This is the 1975 team.

Approximately 200 are in Competitive Sports

LeRoy Moon

Norbert Miguel winds up for a pitch.

Standing: Terry Encinas, Max Morgan, Lonnie Gutterierrez; Kneeling: Norbert Miguel, Alfred Elgin, Travis Tapiga and Delmar Jones.

Cam Nish

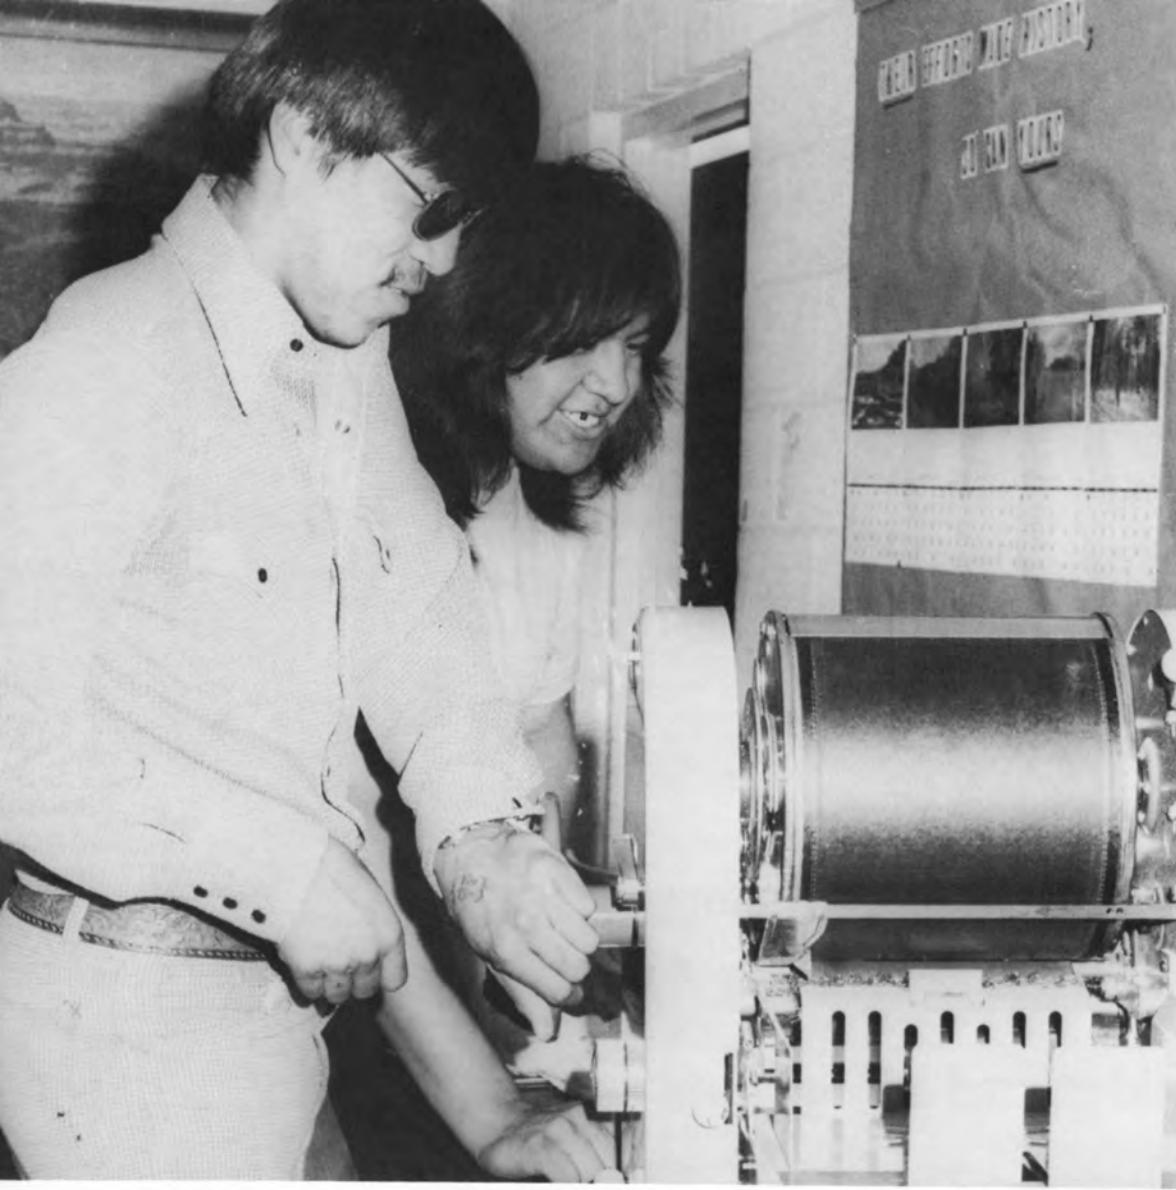

Football begins immediately after school starts each autumn. This year, about 40 young men turned out for Varsity football and several others were on either Junior Varsity or Freshman teams.

Afternoons, Evenings, and Weekends

Lonnie Guterierrez, Albert Phoenix, Philbert Norris, Reed Bullcreek and Wilford Siynella.

The Publications Class published their first issue of Warpath during the second week of school with a broken-down mimeograph machine. Dean Walema and Flash Walema furnished muscle power to grind out 500 copies.

The paper was then stapled and distributed to the student body and employees and some more copies were mailed to the agencies.

This class also publishes the yearbook, called Desert Braves.

A Class

Esther Lewis was Editor of Warpath.

Phillip Nunez, Edmund Enriquez and Marlene Enriquez learn the right way to staple a paper.

in Publications Distributes the News

Denise Billy, an experienced yearbook staffer, gives some tips to her classmates.

In the spring, students in the publications class learned how to take photographs, develop negatives, and print pictures for next year's annual.

There is no time to teach this until after the annual has gone to press about Feb. 15.

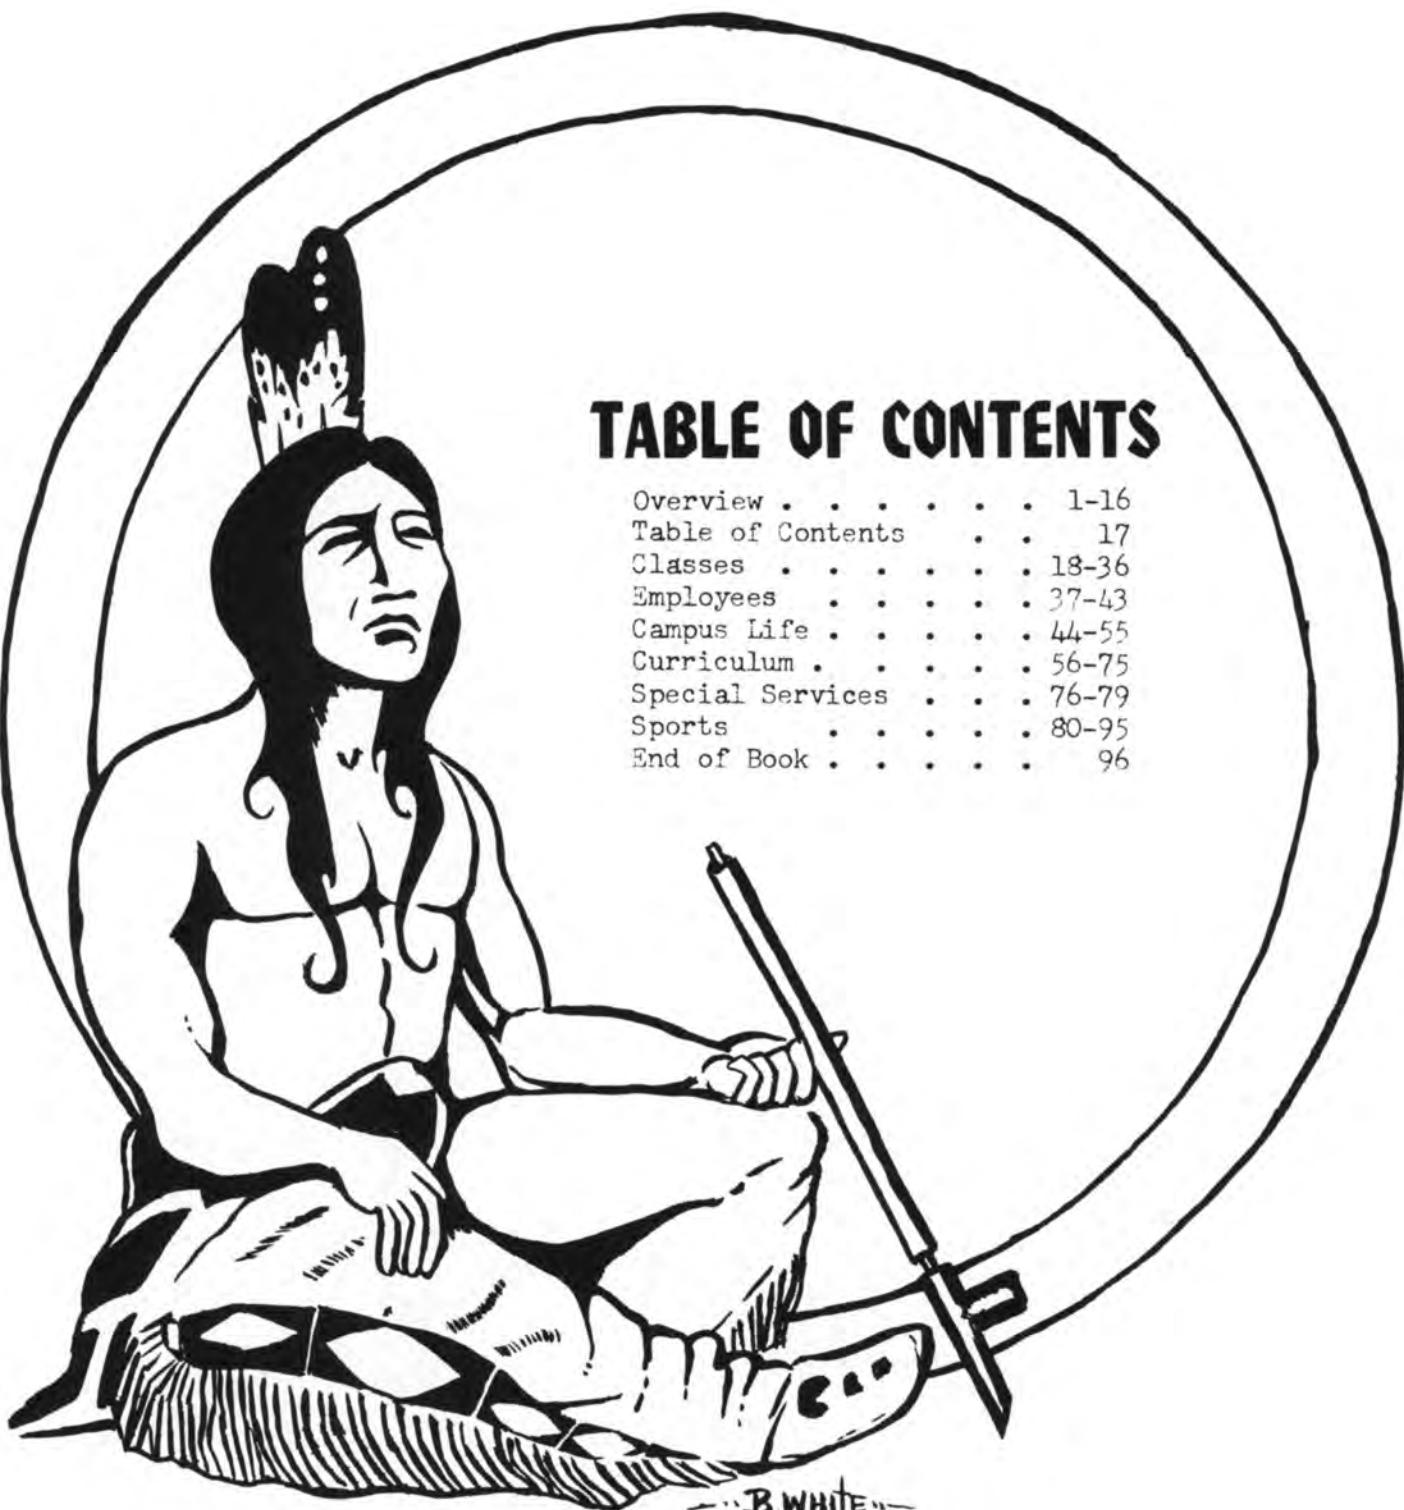

A sports banquet in the spring honors outstanding athletes in all categories of sports plus the outstanding athlete who must have competed in at least three sports. Above left, Marcella Sekayouma is crowned Miss Stewart Indian Festival (1975) by Vicki Leonard, while Rhoda Fisher presents her with an athletic award at the banquet.

Honors and Awards Highlight Spring

CAMPUS LIFE

WE

Learning how to care for one's clothes is part of growing up.

It Wasn't Exactly "Home," But

Bachelor Living was a new course for guys to learn how to buy food and feed themselves.

Saturday mornings in the dormitories, girls could be seen ironing, dressing to go out, or telephoning their first friends.

Campus Life Was Usually Pleasant

T-V is always a popular pastime when girls are not in their rooms working on 4-H projects, studying, or writing letters.

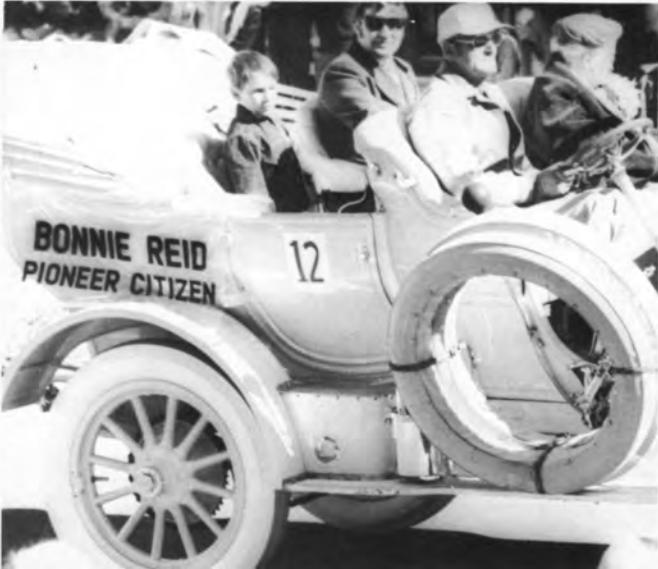

Mr. and Miss Stewart, William Lalo and Rita Andrews rode on a float.

Nevada Day Was Terrific for Everyone

Students enjoy sitting around and just visiting with their friends. For American Indian Day, celebrated Sept. 26 this year, a pow-wow was held in the gymnasium and outside Indian groups of dancers were invited to participate. A group of children from Schurz, Nevada did an outstanding series of dances to promote Indian culture. Mr. and Miss Stewart were chosen from tribal nominees.

Parades, Pow-Wows and Contests

Keep Stewart's Campus Lively, Always

Freshman initiation occurs early in the year, and both freshmen and seniors have a lot of fun wearing crazy costumes. Then for homecoming, football queen candidates get the thrill of dressing up and riding around on top of cars.

Delivering the school newspaper became an activity every two weeks when it was published.

Organizations Provided Many Activities;

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA - this club was sponsored by Rosemary Wood and they were involved in a lot of projects from homemaking to painting textiles. Left to right: Sponsor Rosemary Wood, Annette Lopez, Lucy Ami, Emaline Shurz, Velma Jose and Cheryl Jackson. Other members included Toni Duncan, Becky Banketewa, Jackie Manuel and Marcella Sekayouma.

Sponsor Mary Gentry and son served punch at the prom.

Vita Andrews found decorating fun but a lot of work too.

Juniors Decorated the Gym

The Junior-Senior prom is the biggest social event which takes place late in the spring. Juniors work all year to earn money to treat the seniors on this occasion. Waldine and Al Tyler dress formal to add glamour. Some students have their first dates.

Junior sponsor Betty Albrecht and Mr. Albrecht added cheer to the prom.

For the Junior-Senior Prom

The new gymnasium is decorated with crepe-paper streamers and a colorful banquet of cold cuts and salads is served to both juniors and seniors during intermission. These photographs are of the 1975 Junior-Senior prom.

Corsages were in evidence, but food was preferred to the dance floor at intermission.

Title I

Title I Resources Aided General Classes

Emphasis is on individuality in all Title I classrooms at Stewart. Students are shown working on math, reading, and language art skills. Help was given to students in all areas where they needed assistance by the Title I teachers and aids. The Title I department included a reading center, a math center, and two individualized learning centers.

Heavy Equipment Operation is

Cattle to feed the students all year long is produced at the school ranch where plans got underway this year to erect a classroom and provide a science lab for experimentation. The ranch was purchased several years ago with school money, and a few students usually spend the summer on campus in order to do the chores of feeding the cattle and putting up hay for their winter needs. George Moran supervises the ranch activities, assisted by Bud Allen, Harold Hill and Roger Sam.

Included with Ranching Activities

Band Adds Color, Pep and Music

Under the direction of Richard Martin, the Stewart band had made great strides. Mr. Martin secured instruments from several sources and with new band uniforms, the band marched in the Nevada Day Parade. They presented a Christmas concert, and the pep band provided cheer for the basketball games.

Mrs. Eddie Rucker sponsored the rock bands which provided music for the student dances. Maurice Harris, home economics teacher, made special Indian costumes and remodeled and made band uniforms for the students who marched.

POLICE CADETS - this club is sponsored by the athletic Director Al Tyler and his assistant Mrs. Kay Acheson. These young men and women get training at the local sheriff's office. During athletic activities, they show people where to park and they also police the grounds and take spectators out of the gym if they do not behave in a satisfactory manner. With the training and experience gained at Stewart, frequently the police cadets go into vocations of law and order. Left to right: Allen Davis, Emaline Schurz, Andrew Martinez and Chris Thompson. Kneeling: Leona Henry and Sonja Rogers.

IN THE SPRING, numerous employees sponsor 4-H Clubs for young men and women who want to learn new crafts and compete with others. An Achievement Day is held around April 15 for foods, sewing, knitting, crocheting, weaving God's Eyes or fattening young beeves.

Students were Involved in Club Activities

FUTURE NURSES - this club is sponsored by Rose Mary Wood and the girls assist the PHS Clinic in giving eye tests, tuberculosis tests, etc. Also, they work as nurses' aids at Carson-Tahoe Hospital during afternoons of the school week. With this experience, many of them go into nursing as a career. Back row: Teacher Rose Mary Wood, Doreen Holmes, Annette Manuel and Emaline Shurz. Front row: Wilma Redbird, Margaret Manuel, and Cheryl Terry.

Business Offered Many Vocations

Science is Required for Freshmen;

ARDEN COSAY and Frando Caddo give loving care to rats.

RALPH RIVAS and Brian Jackson chose leather craft as their hobby.

A well balanced science curriculum consists of General Science, Life Science, and Human Physiology and Anatomy. The science requirement for graduation at Stewart Indian School is one full year of science. After this requirement is fulfilled, a student may take the advanced course of Human Anatomy.

General Science consists of the study of Astronomy, Meteorology, Oceanography, Geology, Chemistry, and Ecology.

Life Science is the study of all living things. Plants and animals are studied in depth in this course.

Ballet Comes To Stewart

A professional folk ballet came to Stewart Jan. 10 and entertained the students with scenes from the past. It was amazing to see all those flimsy people jumping here and there, doing hand springs and just almost flying all over the floor.

They were touring Nevada and Stewart, plus help from civic organizations made it possible for them to come here.

Fine Arts is Encouraged

AFTER the new gymnasium was built, some officials at Stewart began collecting photographs and news items about outstanding athletes of the past. Inductees in 1975-76 included kneeing: Phillip Nunez for his brother, Dan nunez, James Paya and David Lalo who received for Tony Begay; Kuri Paya, and Gene Christenson for his father, Wilson Christensen. Standing: Clayton Sampson for his father Harry; Kathleen Paya for her deceased husband Alex Paya, Tully Mann, Bert Steele and Alfred Kitchen.

Homecoming was Super this Year

Miss Shirley Garcia, a Papago from Sells, Arizona, was crowned football queen during Homecoming at Stewart in 1975. She was crowned at halftime by Captain Alfred Gonzales.

Everything was exciting about homecoming, and all the girls were beautiful as they rode atop cars around the football field. The Braves Varsity team lost their game 24 to 12 to Yerington, but the Junior Varsity won. Max Morgan was injured just before halftime, but he made it back to be with his date, the football queen, for homecoming dance which followed in Novake.

The 1975-76 Stewart Boxing Team was undefeated again this year at press time. Boxing, always popular, has drawn crowds of over 1,000 persons to each home match. Billy Turner was a semi-finalist in the 1975 NAAU tournament in Shreveport, La. and won the Sportsmanship award. James Burrell won the National Indian Tournament championship while Larry Joaquin won the senior division championship of San Francisco Golden Gloves. Among 70 who tried out for boxing, 29 survived the tough eliminations.
