Brian Jackson is Valedictorian in 1979

Brian Jackson, a Pima Indian from Casa Blanca, Arizona, heads the 1979 senior class as the valedictorian. Jackson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jackson and he has attended Stewart for the past four years.

He played football three years, wrestled three years, and participated in track three years. He was a Letterman three years, and sergeant at arms of that organization during his senior year. Brian was in band three years, honor band one year, and 4-H club for two years. His plans are indefinite at this time, but they include a job as soon as he can find one.

Second highest scholastically in the class of '79 is Sonia Stone, a Mohave from Parker, Arizona Sonia has been active in student government, band, and girls' athletic association. As salutatorian, Sonia will give the welcome address at Commencement.

Band director Richard Martin told an audience recently when the band performed that Son had been one of the most outstanding clarinet players he had ever taught in 23 years of experience. Sonia has been especially active in Student Council, and she served as secretary this school year and in other capacities before that. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Stone of Parker. Sonia was editor of the 1979 Desert Braves yearbook.

Emma Tapija Crowned "Miss Stewart Indian Festival"

Emma Tapija, a senior and member of the Hualapai tribe at Peach Springs, Arizona was crowned MISS STEWART INDIAN FESTIVAL, Saturday, May 5 in the school gymnasium.

It was such a raw, windy day, the annual pageant and tribal dancing were held in the school gymnasium because it was too windy outside to have a parade.

Loren Sammaripa, his wife Pearl, and children Lonnie and LeeAnn, gave many, many hours of their time in preparation for the pageant, and as usual, things went smoothly.

Miss Numkena was first runner-up to the queen, and Valerie Jefferson was second runner-up. Rose Kizer and Sandra Sargent sponsored the girls in the contest and everyone of them had outstanding performances. Escorts included Troy Kaska for Miss Scott; Milford Numkena for Miss Franklin; Bruce Franklin for Miss Encinas; Lawrence Walema for Mary Pope; Todd Honyaoma for Karen Quay, Terry Naha for Miss Jefferson, Maynard Talahafatewa for Miss Numkena, and Mike Romo for the queen, Miss Tapija.

A great many people came to the festival despite the weather. Trophies were presented to the best dressed boy and girl, the most colorful marching group, and the most colorful group. Wooster High School Indian club took the trophy for most colorful group; the Sho-Ban queen took the best-dressed girl trophy; Willie Mike took the best dressed boy trophy, and Willie and his little sister took the best dressed marching group. (Mike is the young son of coach Ed Mike.)

Indian arts and crafts were sold in Novake as well as various food--Indian and otherwise.

All in all, the 1979 Indian Festival was successful and well attended.

Stewart is My Other Home Now

by Larry Tso
As you all know, school is just about out. I know all of you new comers and second year students are ready to go home. As for me, I'm a senior here, and to me, this is more of a home than my regular home. When I was a freshman here at Stewart, I wanted to go home every time I could, but after a while, I got used to being here.

I went home for one summer, then came back to school and stayed here in Nevada. I haven't been home to Phoenix, Arizona in two years, and maybe I won't be going home in about two more years because being here made Stewart my home.

If I went home now, it would be like moving to a new state. It would make me feel lost.

The only people I'd know would be my parents' brother and sisters.

But I have already told my parents that I'm not going to be coming home when I graduate. I'm going to live in Nevada for about two more years. I have a job all set up for me at Hyatt House where I'll be working, but Stewart will be my home when I'm off duty. I won't be eating or sleeping on campus, but you can find me at all the games and activities that I can find to attend because I enjoy being here.

I Liked it Here at S.I.S

by Another Senior

(Name withheld by request of the author)

I suppose my experiences here at Stewart have been about the same as anyone else's. There have been happy times, sad times, good times, bad times, etc. I've been here at Stewart for four years and I have seen a lot of students come and go. I've also seen a lot of students stay here at Stewart determined to achieve something that's in their minds which only they can say what it is.

I'll never forget everything that this school has taught me and the good people that I went to school with, and all the teachers who have taught me everything I need to know which is quite a lot.

Living away from home has been an experience because I've learned how to be responsible and I've also learned to respect others. All four of the past years I have been here much more time than I spent at home, so I guess you could say Stewart is my home away from home.

The sports and clubs I participated in have taught me that in order to make something work, and function correctly, people have to co-operate with one another. And in order to achieve something you really want to achieve, you have to work hard and earn it because things in life don't always come easy like it used to seem when you were small.

Yeah, I'll miss this school when the time comes for me to leave, but all the memories of this school and the people I have known will always be with me wherever I go and whatever I do.

"J" Class Could Be Fun If .

by Jessica Dorchester

Being a student in journalism class was fun at times except when our adviser was under pressure for deadlines and this caused her to be in a bad mood. I think the fun part of it was taking, developing negatives, and printing our own pictures. But that wasn't the only thing we did. Every other week, we had to publish WARPATH. We had one small problem with that. When it was time for us to gather our information, nobody seemed to be around to give us any information. If that was not the case, we'd get a reply, "Come back tomorrow, I just might have something." So where does that leave us--especially when we have to meet a deadline on Wednesday with our printer. I just hope that next year we can have better cooperation with the teachers and administration in publishing our school newspaper and yearbook.

STAFF

WARPATH is published bi-weekly by students in the journalism class. It is printed by Douglas Colbert and his printing class; then it is distributed without charge to all students, employees and to others who request it. This is the last edition for this school year.

A Tale of Tails

by Pauline Franklin One winter day, Bear went out hunting for food. He couldn't find any food for himself because the lake was all frozen , so he sat there cold and freezing on the ice when he thought about making a hole in the ice and trying to catch a

When Bear was finally able to make a hole in the ice, he stuck his tail in the water and waited for a bite. He felt a couple of nibbles, but he didn't bother to take out his tail , and later Coyote came along. "What are you doing?" Coyote asked.

"Hunting for food," bear answered. Then Bear tried to pull his tail out of the water but he found that it was stuck in the ice, but he didn't tell Coyote because he knew Coyote would laugh and make fun of him, and he would be ashamed. But Coyote kept prancing around and he soon found out that Bear's tail was stuck in the ice anyway. Coyote asked Bear if he needed help and Bear said that he did, so Bear grabbed Coyote's tail in his mouth and Coyote tried to pull him out, but Bear was still stuck. Coyote tried harder and harder and finally Bear was released from the ice, but both Bear and Coyote noticed something different about themselves.

Coyote's tail had stretch out to a long length from being pulled so hard and Bear's tail had snapped off in the ice. So today, that is why Bear has a short tail and Coyote has a long one.

The Job I Want

by Valarie Jefferson

The job I want to have when I get out of school has to do with law envorcement. The one thing

I want to be is a highway patrol woman. Now, the field is open more for women and a woman can become almost anything she wants to be. I first decided on the highway patrol job when I was at home. I would see the Highway Patrol cars driving around and the men would always look neat in their attractive uniforms.

In school (back home) we took tests and made our choices on the jobs we would like to have. In most states, I will have to wait until I am 21 before I apply for the job of Highway Patrol woman. But here at Stewart, I am a Police Cadet and I think I can continue to be a cadet until I

I might attend college until I am 21 so I can learn as much as possible about this profession. am of legal age to get the real job. To be able to know a lot of people and to be able to help them is something I have always wanted

Even though some people do not respect the law, I feel it is something to be proud of to wear a uniform of a law enforcement officer because I feel that officers do make this a much more safe place to live.

It is true that some policemen turn into crooks and these few have given the profession a bad name, but I hope to be one who is well liked by everyone or at least by some of the people.

Indian Joke

One day as a whiteman was walking to his home, he met an Indian with a horse. Thinking the horse pretty, the whiteman asked the Indian if he would sell it to him for $75.

The Indian replied, "No see, no see." "Well Indian," said the whiteman, "I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll give you $100 for that

The Indian shook his head and again said, "No see, no see."

By this time, the whiteman was getting rather angry. "I'll give you $150 for that horse and not a penny more," he said.

The Indian protested, but the whiteman thrust the money into his hands and led the horse away. The next day, the whiteman brought the horse back to the Indian and said angrily, "I want my money back. You cheated me. This horse is blind!" The Indian smiled and said, "Well, I said, no see, no see."

Ask Aunt Mini

Dear Aunt Mini:

There is this one guy who is a very close friend. I really like to talk with him because he is so understanding. But sometimes when we are talking together, other people get the wrong idea about us. He already has a girlfriend and she gets mad at him for talking to me so much. I asked him if it bothered him when she gets mad and he said it doesn't because we are never doing anything except talking.

I was just wondering if you would be sure to print this so all those girls who get jealous over something like this can see how foolish they are. If he didn't want to date them, he never would have asked them in the first place. He has been my friend for over two years and we have a lot of things to talk about, but as for being lovers—no, no, no! I just wanted you to print this so the jealous ones would know how it is.

"Not the OTHER WOMAN"

Dear "Not the OTHER WOMAN:"

You have done an excellent job of explaining. So you see girls, you can be friends without being lovers and that is what I wish a lot more of you girls would try doing. Play the field, learn a lot about all the guys before settling down to JUST ONE.

Aunt Mini

Dear Aunt Mini:

I was wondering if I should come back to Stewart for my final year since I will be graduating next year. I was halfway thinking of staying home and attending the school there because I could graduate at midterm if I did, but if I come back here, I'll have to go all year in order to get the credit for human relations.

Of course I enjoy Stewart and I had a lot of fun and I know I will have fun next year but my problem is, I want to get out of school as soon as possible and on the other hand, I'd like to graduate with my class. What is your advice?

CONFUSED

Dear Confused:

Your senior year should be your best year, but the decision is up to you. Do you already have post high plans? Is college one of them? Decide WHY you want to get out early? If your reasoning is good, then by all means graduate at midterm. Seniors do have fun, but not enough to change your plans too drastically. Aunt Mini

Dear Aunt Mini:

I can't wait to get home. The reason is I am going to take off and go to a party. It's going to be one hell of a party. I was just wondering if you would like to come along? Maybe you will even get a shag if you don't already have one.

"Waiting to Get Home"

Dear "Waiting to Get Home:"

Gee, thanks, I may take you up on this invitation. If a shag is a haircut, I don't have one, but if it is a boyfriend, I do have a lot of those, but your party sounds so exciting I'd like to come along anyway--by myself.

Aunt Mini

Dear Aunt Mini:

What will you be doing this summer? I hope you have a nice vacation and stay out of trouble. What do you think most of the graduating seniors will be doing after they leave dear old SIS

Happy

Dear Happy

Thank you, dear. I like for people to be concerned about me because I am always so concerned about them.

As for the graduating seniors, they will be doing at least 56 different things, for that is how many that are graduating, plus the four who graduated at midterm, or a total of 60. Some will marry, some will work, and some will continue their education. Whatever path they choose, I hope it will be smooth and rewarding for them.

Aunt Mini

Dear Aunt Mini:

During the summer, I plan to have a wonderful time with my whole family and maybe go out once in a while-if you know what I mean. I think most of the graduating seniors will probably party with friends-you know how it is, friends partying on a special occasion such as graduation, birthdays, weddings, etc. But I hope they will all find a good job later on and stick with it. Well, so long, and I hope you have as much fun as I will. Keep out of trouble, also.

One of Your Admirers

Dear Admirer:

Thank you for your interest in me. I will probably stay right here around Stewart to hold the place down and keep it lively for you to come back to next year—you or your younger brothers or sisters. Le+'s both always try to be careful and considerate of others. Aunt Mini

Athletic Banquet has Honored Guests

Stewart's annual ATHLETIC BANQUET was held in the school cafeteria for all boys and girls who lettered in sports this year plus the Lettermen and Letterettes. It occurred at 6:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria with Bud Hurin, Athletic Director, acting as master of ceremonies.

A lot of special people attended this banquet. They included Ray Ahaneawa, a man from Saskatchewan Province in Canada who came to Stewart with a recommendation from the Indian Athletic Association that Stewart was perhaps the best example of a boarding school in the nation which had outstanding Ahaneawa said he is planning to head a school in Canada which will be a boarding school for Indian athletes. Indian athletes from high school through junior college, and he wanted some tips from Stewart's coaches about counseling , keeping, and having winning athletes.

Another special guest at the banquet was John Ascuagua, owner of John Ascuaga's Nuggett in Sparks, who is also a neighbor of Stewart's ranch and a long time friend of the school. Ascuagua was commencement speaker at SIS in 1977, and he has assisted the Lettermen's club for many years when they needed special finances. He was invited to the banquet by the Lettermen's Club.

The regular awards were given out this year as usual to the students who were considered the most outstanding in each sport by their various coaches. Other special awards included the Walter Johnson Award for the boy who was most outstanding in three sports, and the Nellie Harner Award to the girl who was most outstanding in three sports.

A special tribute was paid to Albert Tyler, former coach who is retiring at the end of this school year. Tyler coached for many years. He was the person who brought Bud Hurin to campus, and he has been Student Activities Director for the past nine years, when he retired from coaching because of his health.

It was a fun night for all after a good meal prepared by the ARA Food Services staff.

Martinez Hits Grand Slam Home Run

Stewart's softball team for girls was elated May 4 when they played their last game of the season against Incline and won 17-6.

The team traveled to Incline with the baseball team who also won over Incline 17-4. (It was a Junior Varsity game for the boys.) May 4 was a nice day for baseball. The girls started out bad, making several errors, but they rallied against the Highlanders and turned in some great teamwork.

Girls hitting homeruns included Juliene McCovey, Emma Tapija, Marcella Doka and Joyce Martinez.

Martinez hit a grand slam homerun over into the tennis court. The other players kept making run ins and the score was something to really hoot about according to assistant coach Ralph Hart who really hooted! All toll, the Bravettes ' softball team played 19 games. Out of these, they won 8 and lost 11. Four of the wins were forfeits, but the girls were pleased with their achievement. The softball coaches include Mark Peterson, (head coach), Ralph Hart and Brenda Leaper.

Girls on the softball team predict a better season next year. Only three of their players are graduating. These ibclude Emma Tapija, Susie Lewis and Marion Pablo.

Baseball Season is Over

The baseball season ended in early May this year also. Joe Abbie coac hed his Varsity team to one win and eleven losses while Norbert Miguel's Junior Varsity team won four games and had one loss.

The weather was not always good for baseball. May 5, when the Indian Festival was brought inside, the baseball team was out there in the 50-mile-per-hour wind trying to play baseball. It was so windy, the game had to be called off and was played the following Monday, May 7. Four seniors will be leaving the baseball team from graduation. They are Steve Lopez, Mike Corella, Russell Marks, and David Francisco.

MEET THE SENIORS

J. Class Attends Press Day UNR

Stewart s journalism class went to the University of Nevada in Reno April to attend the annual press conference that is sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, the journalism fraternity.

Everything got down to business when Larue Gilleland, a student at UNR introduced the keynote speaker who was Micheal Parman, a former UNR graduate who talked about how he got into the newspaper business. (He is now an executive on the Sacramento Bee, Sacramento, California.)

Those competing in the newswriting contest left immediately after his speech to write their stories and other students went to various workshops on such topics as broadcasting, photography, public relations, sports writing, etc.

At noon, the workshops were over and students participating were served lunch in the student union building,

At all the workshops, people in radio, television, photography, magazine publishing, etc. talked about their jobs and how to get a job in this field.

A general meeting was held in the afternoon to announce the winner of the writing contest and other contests. (Stewart did not get their newspaper judged because there was so much delay in determining whether or not the class could attend the conference, time ran out to send in the old Warpaths

After everyone got together again, the students returned to Stewart's campus.

Happy Outings!

With the close of school almost here, various clubs, dorms, cottages, and organizations are having picnics, outings, or chow downs. Some groups will be going in the evenings, others will be going on the weekends, and some of the resource rooms are planning field trips.

As this paper goes to press, details of all these outings are not known, but WARPATH would like to recognize these happenings as news and hope everyone has fun.

Origin of the Twelve Months of the Year

by Rebecca Valenzuela

This is an Aztec legend explaining how the twelve months originated. There was a chief who had three daughters. The oldest one was the prettiest of them all and the other two were jealous of her. She never got along with her two sisters, and her mother was always picking on her, too. The chief would tell his wife and younger daughters to leave his oldest daughter alone, but they never did.

Finally, the chief couldn't take it anymore, so he and the oldest daughter left. They went t a place that was called Tomenick and they were happy there.

Then the chief told his daughter that she was never to leave him until somebody would come and get her--meaning another chief's sons were to come and ask for her hand in marriage. What became of her mother and sisters is unknown.

Many months passed and then the word was spread around that the chief's daughter was pretty and ready to go.

Mow the chief didn't want her to go, but soon the sons of the other chief were coming and they brought many beautiful gifts hoping the chief, her father, would not refuse her hand in marriage to one of them. But no matter what they offered, her father always refused the gift.

Now the people became very angry at the chief for doing this and finally the young men gave

Then another chief arrived, bringing his sor, some friends, and other relatives. They brough a lot of beautiful gifts that no one had ever seen before and the father couldn't refuse them, so they had a beautiful wedding ceremony that night. The ceremony lasted all night until the beginning of dawn. The chief begged the bride and groom to stay a while, but they said they must ge back since they had a long way to go.

They left, and when the newly weds got to their village, the bride had never seen anything more beautiful. The husband took her home and said it was time for bed, and when the wife woke up the next morning, she saw her husband's skull on her shoulder.

She got scared and ran and what she once thought was the most beautiful village in the world was gone. It was nothing but an old broken down town with bones all around of its former inhab-She went to the river and tried to get in the boat that she and her husband had arrived in, but it was too old to float. Then the girl saw smoke and she went to it. When she got there, she saw an old woman sitting there beading. The old woman didn't turn her face, and all she said was, "Come in. I've been expecting you."

The old woman was called owl woman. She could go to both worlds, and she said, "So YOU are the bride! You will get used to it here. All you have to do is live in the night and sleep in the daylight. Stay here. They will come and get you in a little while."

Soon it was getting dark, and a party came. Some of the people were angry because the girl had hurt some of them when she was running. (She had stepped on their bones.)

The girl's husband told them to forgive her because she didn't know she was hurting them, so they all went back and once again, the village was there. The girl did not know that this was the world of the dead, but she got used to it and lived like the owl woman said she would live.

One year passed, and her husband realized that his beautiful bride did not belong in their world yet, so he took her back to earth and her father was very happy to see her. By this time, she had a child, and her husband told her not to look at it for 12 days, so she left it in a cradle all covered up. Then her husband told her he would be back and pick her up if she didn't look at the baby for 12 days.

On the twelfth day, she left the child with her father and told him not to open the cradle until she came back, but her father was curious and opened it. When he did so, there on the board were the baby's bones.

When the daughter came back, she knew what had happened but her father couldn't see her. Then her husband returned and took both her and his child and they went back to their beautiful village in the other world, where they lived happily ever afterwards.

Later on, the old chief was told that his daughter was dead. It was reported to him that somebody had found her body by the river with the little baby beside her.

Apparently she had brought her baby back from the underworld, but they had died on earth. And the promise she made her husband about returning to him is why we have the twelve months of the year.

Letter of Thanks

I would like to publicly make known the thanks of the Administrative Officer to the following individuals for their hard work and service to Stewart Indian School in helping review and amend the Student Rights and Responsibilities Handbook:

Sonia Stone Vincent Garcia Ervin Lopez Valerie Joka Tina Canner Harry Lippy William Oliver Eleanor Key Jill Barney Garland Francis Carl Cooley Dorothy Harman Ramon Oceguera Albert Tyler

All these individuals volunteered for the committee. The task before the committee involved much dedication and concern on each individual's part. Committee work began March 30 and was completed with the presentation of the rough draft to Mr. Peters for his review and approval.

If any individual who sat on the committee has been left off the list, please accept my apologies and my appreciation for your service and work.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY IN Part

by Edmund Jose

The senior class of Stewart Indian school are near the end of their high school career. Many of them have been here for a period of four years, so they rememember many things.

Freshman Year

During their freshman year, the class of '79 had their first opportunity to sponsor events, so they held a few dances or sponsored a few movies to help raise funds for their needs of the

Upon their arrival at Stewart, they were greeted with warm welcomes and the next day they were taken on a tour of the school ranch and also of Carson City and surrounding areas while the other students enrolled. The purpose of this bus journey was to acquaint the new students with the area in which they were now living. They were even taken to a circus in Reno.

Tapija, secretary, and James Lewis, treasurer.

Getting initiated by the might seniors was perhaps the funniest thing that happened to the frosh during their first year. They had their faces blacked and they were auctioned off as slaves for whatever price they would bring. They cleaned the campus, and then were treated to pop, etc. by their masters.

Sophomore Year

In their sophomore year, the class of '79 became involved in many things. Some of the better athletes got into varsity sports and the class held more and more activities to raise money. Class officers included Marvin Perkins, president; Raul MOrales, vice president; Nadine Wilder, secretary, and treasurer, Theresa Sanchez.

It is interesting to note that only Marvin Perkins is still a member of the senior class. Something happened to the others along the wayside to prevent their graduating with the class of

Junior Year

The class of '79 was very active in their junior year of 1977-78. They were responsible for raising money for the Junior-Senior prom, and this year the juniors did it up big by having the Prom at Ormsby House. A banquet was held in the dining room on campus, then chartered buses took the juniors, seniors, and guests to Ormsby House where they danced to the music of "Roots," a band of black youngsters from Reno who were late in coming, but very good once they arrived. The Chicken Scratch band played for one dance without charging in order for the class to have the money they needed to take care of the expenses of the Prom. Jackie Giff, a junior, was the Homecoming queen candidate, but she did not return this year. She lost, however, to the senior candidate, Gerri Navasie. Last year as well as this year, the class of '79 had a lot of outstanding students in varsity sports. They included LeRoy Honyumptewa in cross country, Dennis Quimayousie in boxing, and many others. Junior class officers were elected. Janiece Patricio served as treasurer and Dennis Quimayousie was elected president.

Senior Year

This is the senior year, and Marion Pablo brought honors to her class by being named football queen at homecoming. Debbie Coops brought still more beauty and honor and glory by being the Prom Queen who reigned at the Junior-Senior prom held this year in the school gymnasium.

Senior class officers this year are Robert Mahkewa, president; Henryetta Jose, vice president; Janiece Patricio, secretary; and Judy Morgan, treasurer.

This year, the senior class members who did not have any major infractions were treated to an outing at Marriot's Great America May 14. They left on chartered buses and returned after an exciting but tiring outing.

Brian Jackson was named valedictorian of the class of '79 and Sonia Stone was named salutatorian

1979 Class Prophecy

by Sonia Stone

The time is May 24, 1989, and as I was sitting at my desk here at dear old Stewart, I remembered it was the tenth anniversary of the commencement exercises for the class of 1979. I have been working here as secretary to the principal, Maurice Jefferson, for the past five years and I thought it would be fun to check up on all of my old classmates,

As a matter of fact, a lot of us are working right here. The home living specialists are none other than Dennis Quimayousie and Tracy Valdez. Boy! They sure have changed the rules since Harman and Oliver had that program. Edmund Jose has been chef at the dining hall for the past three years. I used to marvel at his techniques when I watched him cooking in Miss Wood class.

Bernadine Tabbee is using everything Lorri Lippy taught her about Human Relations since s took over the teaching of that course four years ago. Omar Winishut is also Director of Stud Activities here, and his Student Council sponsors disco dances every week, and Omar dances at of them. (He even dances for department head meetings!)

Lynn Santio took Gerry Emm's place as ranch supervisor after Emm went on to bigger and b things. Lynn holds three rodeos every year in the fall, Christmas, and spring.

I phoned Hyatt House and learned that Robert Mahkewa, Larry Tso, Milford Numkena, Pauline Franklin and Flora Lewis are still working there in Lake Tahoe. Since Milford and Pauline wer married, they bought a home up there and Pauline works as a Keno supervisor in the casino.

Rachel Upshaw and Marvin Perkins were married here at the Baptist church soon after graduation, and they both work as educational aids in the dorms here and have for ten years.

Marquist Santio also works here as athletic director since Bud Hurin retired. I suppose those years of managing various teams helped him get the job.

A couple of weeks ago I was at the Reno Indian Colony partying, and I just got busted by Craig Johnson who is now chief of police at the colony. He put me in jail, but I called my a torney, MARK MIX who lives with his wife, the former Jill Magee in Hoopa, California, and Matold me to sit tight and he would have me out in two days. So there I sat and waited.

I had to call the agency, and there the switchboard operator, Nadine Boney, took my mess to my boss, Maurice Jefferson. While I was waiting for him to try to do something, the mail a rived and the jailer brought me a paper from Phoenix. I was amazed to see that Ernestine Fri and LeRoy Honyaktewa had made the front page by just being hired at Phoenix Indian School. LeRoy was principal of the school and Ernestine was to be his secretary.

About that time, Mark came and finally got me out of the jail. So I came back to work. Then I remembered that I might find more information about my class if I went into the school library and read the papers there. The first one I pic ked up was called The Runner, and I le from the JUST MARRIED column that Jimmy Francisco and Leona Henry had finally said, "I Do!"

I started reading about the Papago tribe and learned that the chairman of that group is n LOUIE LOPEZ! It was quite a shock. The article said that he and his wife, KATHY CANNER, were having some trouble because Lopez was not paying enough attention to her. He was spending all his time at rodeos and his wife was threatening to leave him and run away with DAVID FRANCISC

I wish I knew which guy won, but we will have to wait for this one. In the same paper I read about Cat Skinner  $\underline{\text{James}}$   $\underline{\text{Lewis}}$  who had just leveled off some of the hill country of the reservation and would be used to build a new tribal office.

On other pages of the newspaper, I saw where  $\underline{\text{Virginia}}$   $\underline{\text{Enriquez}}$  had just been promoted to teacher supervisor at Santa Rosa Boarding School. I went back to my office because the phone ringing. When I answered it, I learned  $\underline{\text{Monica}}$   $\underline{\text{Antone}}$  was calling to talk to her younger siste While she waited for her sister, Monica and I started gossiping about our old class, and she t me that  $\underline{\text{Susie}}$   $\underline{\text{Lewis}}$  had just signed a contract to play professional basketball with the Phoe Suns. Monica said she now works as a nurse at the Indian hospital, and she started filling me about everybody. (continued on next page)

Monica told me that Judy Morgan and Emma Tapija had just been released from the hospital where she works. Each had had their third babies. She also said that Brian Jackson had been hospitalized with a heart attack, but was fine now. Monica was of the opinion Brian's wife had brought on the attack by putting too much chili in his stew. (Bytheway, Brian's wife is the former Janece Patricio.) Monica said some of her acquaintances believed the attack had been triggered because Janecehad been messing around with Mike Corella. (This was just gossip, of course.)

Monica also told me that she had learned Susan Jefferson had married Vernon Manuel but she was threatening to divorce him when she learned he had been messing around with Vicki Johnson.

Monica had some good news, too! Steve Lopez , she said, was on tour with his chicken scratch band and Henrietta Jose was working with the YMCA in Phoenix. About that time we learned that Monica's sister was at the ranch, so we hung up before I learned any more gossip.

About that time, a call came in from the Hualapai Agency that Stanford Matuck now directs. Stanford said that one of their students wanted permission to go home with her aunt who just happened to be Laverne Querta, and he wanted to give his permission.

It was delightful to know that Laverne would be coming to Stewart and I was very anxious to see her.

I turned on my radio that I keep in the office just in time to hear a news bulletin about Leonard Mota . It seems that he had just turned into a professional boxer and was to have his second fight at Hyatt House Lake Tahoe.

I wrote a reminder to myself to phone Robert and ask for a discounted ticket for the weekend so I could see the fight. Then I finished typing the application for Whitney Smart to be hired as a teacher aid here. I was happy to see him working again, for I had heard that all he did was stay home and drink. Things got a little boring in the office, so I returned to the library.

I picked up the Sacaton Flyer and read where Ervin Lopez and his wife (the former Marion Pablo) were moving to Phoenix where Ervin had just been hired to work at the Hyatt Regency in Phoenix.

I remembered the last time I had seen Marion she still had the nicest smile! Marion and Debbie Coops were working as stewardesses on the plane when I went down with Maurice to attend a principal's workshop. Marion told me then that Margaret Jackson was working at Phoenix Indian hospital as a dental technician.

Debbie told me on the plane that day that she lived next door to Rosaline Valentine and Marlene Eleando who were always throwing parties at their house until the wee hours of the morning. She remembered hearing them talk about the time they were partying at William Johnson's house in Sells and got busted by the tribal officer there, Russell Marks.

We had a great time talking on that trip to Tucson. Debbie mentioned that Ma rvin Coops owned his own taxi service in Scottsdale and was happily married.

You know, there is always a little sadness along with all the joy, and just yesterday I heard that David Ortega had died in a car crash while he was going home from work. He was using I looked up from the manuscript I was just typing, and Irene Kisto walked in to have me make an announcement about the spirit group. I forgot to tell you that Irene took Kay Atcheson's place as director of the Spirit Groups at Stewart.

Well, the phones are ringing. Answer #14 for me, will you please? Then we will talk more about the good old days of 1979 when all of us were seniors here at Stewart where there was never a dull moment.

ADVISER'S NOTE: The senior edition was an idea of mine many years ago when I taught in public school. After publishing the first one, seniors in subsequent years seemed to expect it, and each year thereafter, I have turned summersaults and stood on my head trying to get the necessary information to compile this special edition. But my patience is now very thin. Some seniors have either neglected or refused to fill out a questionnaire. Without complete coverage of ALL the class members, it seems pointless to continue to struggle for input and information. Could be this will be your last senior edition. My job description does not specify that I do this. Ruby W. Shannon

I, Omar Winshut, will my dancing ability to all the underclassmen who like disco dancing.

David Francisco

As this paper was going to press, David Francisco sent in his senior questionnaire and the only space left is the back of this newspaper.

David is a Papago from Tucson, Arizona. He has attended Stewart two years and he is a Capricorn. His favorite subjects were math, PE and human relations. After graduating, David would like to work as a welder, firefighter, or heavy equipment operator.

The person he admires most is his human relations teacher, Lorri Lippy, David's most exciting experience was when he had recovered a fumble in football and started running to the touchdown line. Just then he got tackled and fumbled the ball. "This is what you call a Lineman's dream," David said, David's hobby is playing football, baseball, handball, tennis, and building model cars. Joe Abbie is the employee who influenced David the most and his brother Jimmy Francisco was his favorite peer counselor, He did not leave a will.
